Meet on parade

A planning meeting for the 1994 Flag Day parade will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, June 6, at the AMVETS Post 51, 5100 Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach.

At this meeting, plans will be discussed to make this year's parade even bigger and better than in previous years.

Representatives of all veterans, fraternal, civic, religious, union, business and youth organizations are invited to attend.

The fourth annual Quad City Flag Day parade is scheduled for 1 p.m. Sunday, June 12.

Any and all persons representing various groups, such as churches, marching units, bands, kennel clubs, car clubs, clowns, etc., are invited to participate in the event.

For further information, persons may contact Mary Scarsdale at 451-9626 or Jim Taylor, commander of American Legion Post 113 in Granite City, at 931-4504.

Plan craft show

The Granite City Park District will sponsor a craft show on Sunday, July 3, at the Wilson Park Ice Rink facility.

The show is in conjunction with the annual July Fourth celebration. Tables are still available for crafters wishing to participate. The cost is $15 for residents of the Granite City Park District and $20 for nonresidents.

Those interested in registering may call Sue Champ on at 877-3059.

Friends Day set

Bibleway Deliverance Center, 1247 Klein St. in Venice, will celebrate Family and Friends Day at 5 p.m. Sunday, June 5.

Theme for the event is "A Family of Friends." Everyone is welcome.

Meet for games

The Senior Social Club will meet at the Granite City Township Hall at 12:30 p.m. Sunday for an afternoon of games.

Deal turns sour Man faces 2 rape charges

A 29-year-old Granite City man awaiting sentencing after pleading guilty to a drug charge earlier this year was charged with two counts of rape this week.

John Wayne Lindsey was charged with unlawful production of cannabis and two counts of aggravated criminal sexual assault in felony warrants issued Tuesday.

He was being held in the Madison County Jail in lieu of $200,000.

Lindsey

According to the formal charges, Lindsey raped a 22-year-old Granite City woman at gunpoint Thursday night.

Police said the rape was apparently a case of a drug deal gone bad.

According to police reports, the victim told police she had gone to Lindsey's home in the 2200 block of Washington Avenue to purchase a pound of marijuana for two other men.

The victim gave Lindsey $1,400 and was told to return in 45 minutes, police said.

But when she returned at about 10 p.m. Lindsey allegedly

Circus slated at Raceway

The 1994 edition of the Ainsel Shrine Circus is coming to the Granite City area, according to Charlie Alves and John McGee, Granite City circus chairman.

The 1994 circus will be at the Gateway International Raceway, located on Highway 203 and the Interstate 55/70 intersection, in Madison.

Performances are 7:30 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, June 9 and 10. "We expect this year's circus to be the biggest and best we have ever put on," McGee said.

Shakeup at National Steel Doerr ousted after year as president, CEO

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

The first Granite City Steel officer to rise through the ranks and become head of National Steel Corporation lasted about a year in the position.

On Tuesday, the National Steel board of directors relieved President and Chief Executive Officer Ron Doerr from his office and responsibilities.

The board also released Richard E. Newsted, the corporation's chief financial officer and secretary.

National Steel spokesman Bob Toothman said that the move, announced Wednesday, was prompted by a shift in emphasis.

"I think the basic reason is the board wanted to put additional emphasis on operations," Toothman said.

He said there was "absolutely no impropriety" on the part of Doerr or Newsted to prompt the decision.

Both Doerr and Newsted have backgrounds in finance and accounting positions.

Doerr and Newsted are currently negotiating with the board as to their future relationship with the company, Toothman said.

V. John Goodwin, the former general manager of USS Corporation's Gary (Ind.) works, was named to replace Doerr, effective immediately.

"We are fortunate to be able to obtain the services of a highly skilled steel executive," said Board Chairman Osamu Sawara.

Goodwin has been in the steel industry for 27 years, including responsibilities for managing and directing all plant maintenance at major steelmaking facilities, Sawara said.

Robert N. Greer, formerly plant controller of the Gary works, was named senior vice president and chief financial officer at National Steel.

Doerr joined National Steel's Granite City Division in 1968. He worked through a number of accounting and financial positions before being named controller in 1974.

He was transferred to National's Great Lakes Division in the Detroit area in 1976 and became vice president and controller there in 1982.

Later that year, Doerr was named assistant to the president and group director at Great Lakes. He was quickly promoted to vice president and controller at National Steel's Pittsburgh headquarters that same year, and became vice president of finance two years later, in 1984.

In June 1987, Doerr was named executive vice president (See DOERR, Page 6A)

Area municipalities vying for federal funds

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Sometimes, Christmas comes a little early.

And a number of municipalities in Madison County are now submitting their "wish lists," hoping to know by the end of the summer that public works projects and handicapped accessibility projects will get a financial boost from the federal government.

Madison County Community Development has taken funding applications from municipalities for projects eligible for federal block grants through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds are designed to eliminate blight or promote employment in areas of need.

They are allocated to large cities like Granite City and Alton on the basis of population and proven need, and to counties like Madison County which, in turn, allocate them to smaller municipalities on a discretionary, per-project basis.

Alton receives about $1 million per year in CDBG funds. Granite City receives slightly less.

Among the area municipalities hoping to get a piece of the $1.5 million "discretionary" funds allocated to MCCD this year are the village of Pontoon Beach, the city of Madison and the city of Venice.

John Hales, an engineer with Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab who helped design a proposed public works project for Pontoon Beach, said there is traditionally a lot of competition for the discretionary CDBG funds.

"We're trying to look for some free money. And people just don't give it away too often," Hales said.

Madison officials learned that lesson the hard way last year, when an application for $125,000 in CDBG funds to construct an elevator in City Hall to meet the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) failed to receive funding.

Tuesday night, Pontoon Beach officials passed a resolution authorizing Mayor Glen Wilson to apply for $125,000 for the second phase of a two-phase road improvement and drainage project on Nicholas Lane and Queensberry Court, located just north of Pontoon Road and west of Lake Drive.

Hales said the proposed Pontoon Beach (See FUNDS, Page 6A)

Orsey receives Bar Association honor

Dennis Orsey, regional director of the Granite City region of the Illinois Attorney General's Office, has received the Illinois State Bar Association's John C. McAndrews Pro Bono Service Special Commendation Award.

The award recognizes the efforts of attorneys who provide legal representation without charge to indigent clients.

Orsey, a Granite City resident, became involved in pro bono work through the Tri-City and Madison County Bar Associations.

He is currently chair of the MCBA Pro Bono program, which he developed during his tenure as president of the bar association.

Orsey said that attorneys have a special duty in their volunteer work.

"Often times, business professionals are approached by various charity groups to give money or volunteer their time. Lawyers can do the same thing, but lawyers can do something that other people can't do and that is represent people in court," he said.

"I think it can be very rewarding and satisfying ... and the kind of feedback you get from the people that you help — you really can't put a dollar value on that," Orsey said.

In addition to his efforts to create the Madison County Pro Bono program, Orsey has been involved in several other programs.

First, during his tenure as MCBA president, Orsey created a monthly radio call-in program, "Ask the Lawyer."

broadcast in Alton and Edwardsville.

Each month, two Madison County attorneys field calls on a variety of legal topics. Orsey created the program to increase community involvement of the bar association.

From 1987 through 1993,

Orsey acted as coordinator for the "People's Law School." The programs were a joint effort of the MCBA,

ISBA and Southern Illinois University

Student Legal Services.

Each session of the People's Law School addressed a specific topic or topics and was presented free to the community.

As a result of last summer's record floods, the ISBA created a task force on disaster relief. Orsey, along with former U.S.

Sen. Alan Dixon, was appointed co-chairman of the task force by ISBA President Tom

Leahy.

The task force was created to aid flood victims in legal situations arising out of the floods and its aftermath.

Orsey and Dixon created a three-tiered approach to the problem.

First, forums were held in Alton, Quincy and Tamm, where local attorneys and state and federal officials answered flood-related questions from the public.

The second tier involved the creation of a flood victim hotline. The toll-free telephone number was set up by the ISBA in conjunction with the Illinois Pro Bono Center.

Volunteer attorneys from each of the flood-ravaged counties were recruited for the effort. Callers were referred to a participating attorney in their area. So far, 188 referrals have been made, according to the IPBC.

Finally, Orsey, Leahy and two local attorneys created a 30-minute public service videotape, produced by Crown Cable. Leahy was featured in an introductory segment, followed by Orsey with consumer tips regarding flood-related cases.

The final 20 minutes were devoted to a question and answer session in which the attorneys responded to frequently asked, flood-related legal questions. The video was shown on several community-access cable television channels and in Red Cross disaster relief centers.

"I really enjoy helping people and I enjoy being involved with activities that help people," Orsey said. "I get pulled in a lot of different directions, but I try to find time for everybody who asks."

In addition to his pro bono service and MCBA and TCBA memberships, Orsey is a member of the Madison County Police Association, Tri-Cities Area United Way board of directors, Granite City Rotary Club and IPBC board of directors.

News in review

"News in review" provides a summary of top stories from the area. The column is designed to assist out-of-town readers who do not receive the Sunday and Wednesday newspapers.

County jail may get tax help

One area lawmaker is trying to help a Madison County Jail expansion bill break out of legislative gridlock.

A bill that would enable Madison County officials to use the proceeds from a 1.74-cent jail construction tax to renovate and expand the county jail in Edwardsville has fallen victim to partisan bickering in the Statehouse.

"All our bills are dead," said state Rep. Jay Hoffman, a Collinsville Democrat, referring to a recent decision by Senate Republican majority leaders to ignore all bills passed out of the House after mid-May.

Hoffman's bill would have changed the law governing use of special jail construction taxes and allowed county officials to go ahead with plans to increase capacity at the overcrowded facility from 178 to 240.

Hoffman said he would amend a noncontroversial rural government bill already approved by the Senate to include the jail expansion provision.

"I don't know of any major opposition to (the jail expansion proposal). If this was a normal year, it would be no problem, but nothing is moving now. Everything is at a standstill," Hoffman said from the floor of the House.

The jail tax was first levied in 1979 to build the existing $4 million facility on Randle Street in Edwardsville. The tax is scheduled to drop off property owners' tax bills next year when bonds issued to finance the jail construction are paid off.

Cities might suffer from trash plan

A proposed Madison County ordinance mandating volume-based garbage collection fees would be especially rough on Madison and Venice — two of only four municipalities in the county still using city staffs to provide residential trash service to residents.

But the fairness of a volume-based garbage collection fee was driven home to Madison officials — reluctantly and perhaps inadvertently — last week as they considered and then rejected a proposal to go into the commercial trash business.

Road funds OK'd for North Granite

The Illinois Commerce Commission has approved the closing of two dangerous railroad crossings at 29th Street and at Nameki Drive in the North Granite area.

The ICC also agreed, along with the Norfolk & Western Railway, to provide $750,000 to build two new access roads into and out of North Granite. One will extend Nameki Drive south from 25th to 22nd Street, and the other will extend Sinclair Street north to Colonial Drive.

Woman assaulted at gunpoint

A 29-year-old Granite City man, awaiting sentencing after pleading guilty to a drug charge, was arrested for raping a 22-year-old Granite City woman at gunpoint on Thursday. After obtaining a search warrant, police entered his home and confiscated 32 marijuana plants, two shotguns, two rifles, ammunition, two safes and $900 cash.

Study looks at tobacco availability

By Mark Hodapp-Staff writer

The Illinois Liquor Control Commission is in the process of finding out how available tobacco products are to people under the age of 18.

The ILCC has asked all municipal and county governments across the state to fill out a survey regarding this issue.

The ILCC will use this study to assist the state in complying with provisions of the Federal Alcoholism, Drug Abuse and Mental Health Administration Reorganization Act of 1992.

ADAMHA requires states to enforce its laws by demonstrating to the U.S. Secretary of Health that the availability of tobacco products to individuals under the age of 18 is reduced.

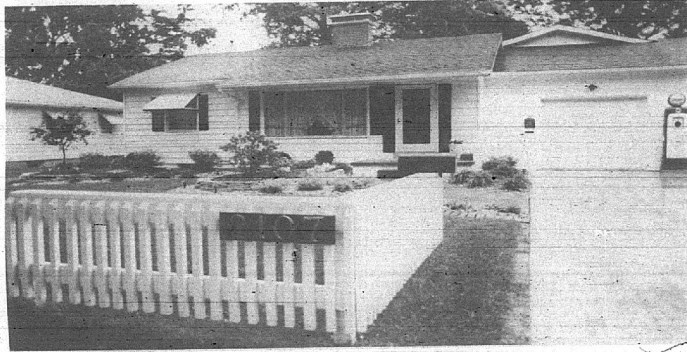

To ensure compliance with federal tobacco laws, the state will be conducting annual random, unannounced inspections of tobacco vendors starting in October, Murphy said.

But Illinois, like a lot of states, does not have a designed tobacco enforcement agency in place, she said.

At present, Murphy said no single state agency has authority over the many different aspects of the federal law or the resources to implement such a program.

On Jan. 15, the ILCC submitted a report to the governor and the General Assembly which highlighted initiatives to date.

In a preliminary study completed by the ILCC, the commission surveyed 343 vending machine outlets and 810 over-the-counter outlets in 61 counties throughout the state. From this study, it was found that 80 percent of these establishments either sell or serve alcohol and approximately 50 percent of those were bar/taverns and restaurants.

3rd year for Home Pride program

A program to honor persons whose properties reflect pride in ownership was established in 1991 by the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and the Press-Record/Journal, and because of its success is entering its third year.

Special emphasis is being placed on those properties that have become models for the rest of the neighborhood. Included will be owners who have remodeled, planted floral gardens, cleaned up properties or otherwise demonstrated significant pride in the display of their homes and surrounding properties, chamber officials said.

Homes will be selected purely on the basis of nomination by members of the community. Nominations are open to any residence (including homes, apartments and other dwellings) in the Quad-City area, including Nameki, Chouteau, Venice and Granite City townships.

The Press-Record/Journal will publish winners on the third Thursday of each month, beginning in June and ending in September. Previous winners are not eligible for the award.

Winners will be presented a certificate and will be cited in continuing coverage by the newspaper.

To nominate someone for the honor, simply send the person's name, address, telephone number and reason for citing the individual. The form provided on this page may also be used for nominations.

Nominations should be mailed to the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, 1831 Delmar Ave., Granite City, Ill., 62040. The Chamber of Commerce office can be reached at 876-6400 if more information is needed.

Big shoes for board to fill

Granite City children lost a good friend and advocate last week. Monroe Worthen was first elected to the school board in 1960. That was before the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Before the Beatles "invaded" this country. Before the Vietnam War. Before Watergate. Much has changed in our society in that time. And in our schools.

Nineteen sixty was before Granite City High School North was even a thought. Or a number of other school buildings. It was before more than a half-dozen school superintendents, including Russell Johnson, Bob J. Davis, Frank Kraus, Max Redmond, Gilbert Walmesley and Steve Balen.

In 1960, chewing gum, talking out of turn, running in the halls and improper clothing were considered the primary threats to the education process.

Today, teachers and students are concerned with AIDS, drug abuse, knives, guns, teen pregnancy and alcohol abuse. Enrollment soared dramatically, only to begin a long decline. Staffing requirements escalated and then had to be curtailed.

Through all those changes, Monroe Worthen remained steadfast. He remained dedicated to the same purpose and asked the most important question: "Is it good for the kids?"

Worthen was a very private man. He was a mystery at times, even to many of his closest friends. But when it came to our schools, Worthen was a very public figure. Whether it was watching school finances, perfecting bid procedures, questioning an questionable recommendation or spearheading programs like Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE), Worthen spoke his mind.

He earned the nickname "Watchdog Worthen."

The six remaining members of the Board of Education have a difficult decision to make in the next 30 days. Carolyn Nemeth, Jeff Parker, Jan Joeth, Pete Novacich, Walt Whitaker and Eldin Rea are charged with finding someone to fill the position vacated as a result of Worthen's sudden and unexpected death last week.

These six people — 83 percent of a board that has often voted 4-3 on issues — must come together to find someone to fill the shoes that Worthen wore for more than 34 years. That he wore them well is attested to by the fact that only he, of dozens of board members, continued without exception to win voters' approval every three years (every four years in recent times), decade after decade.

The board members cannot really replace Worthen; that would be impossible. But they need to find a highly qualified person to fill the board vacancy — someone who will ask, "Is it good for the kids?" and vote his or her conscience.

We suggest board members give that question considerable thought before making a decision.

Worthen's frankness and longevity on the board earned him a number of enemies. But to several generations of students growing up in Granite City — whether they knew him or not — Monroe Worthen was one of their best friends.

Jackie will be remembered for her dignity and courage

Carol Clarkin writes this weekly column for the Granite City Press-Record.

Elegance. Grace. Dignity. Courage. Class.

From the day she was laid to rest last week in Arlington National Cemetery, those were the words we heard over and over again describing Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy Onassis.

Public reaction to her death was interesting, to say the least. For many of those who remembered the lovely young Jackie Kennedy of the early '60s, it was the loss of a living icon. One they clung to, often too sentimentally, a symbol of happier times, perhaps.

A symbol, too, of what they viewed as representing our national fortitude and dignity in times of tragedy. They wanted her frozen in time and, to many, she remained that way in their own minds.

This, I suppose, is to be expected; it is understandable. What was more interesting was the reaction of the young, those who weren't even a gleam in daddy's eye when Jack and Jackie were the youngest couple to move into that big, white Washington mansion.

Too young to have experienced the shock and sorrow of that grim November of '63 and remember, vividly, a young black-clad widow, holding the hands of two small boys, though, has stirred the imagination of today's young people. Old news pictures, shown over and over on television, perhaps. Movies, television specials, who knows what. Whatever it was, large numbers of our young people appeared to have been genuinely touched by her death, to have sensed the loss of a legend. And to have been impressed by, and admiring of, the woman herself.

When one considers some of the purported "idols" of the young today, I find that rather heartening.

Just when I had begun to believe that today's youth admired and emulated folks like Madonna and Roseanne, the garbage-mouths and crotch-grabbers, the exhibitionists, the weird and revolting — I'm off-base, caught in error to some degree.

Some, at least, appear to have admired and respected a woman notable for her chic and simple elegance and her never-failing lady-like public behavior and manners.

Could it be that they're recognized in her a role model they've wanted and never had? If so, they're more sensitive than we've been led to believe.

If the "Carnegie" myth played a part in capturing the interest of today's young people, at least it has served some useful purpose.

Frankly, I never appealed to me. It was, after all, based on nothing more than news people learning that Jack Kennedy's favorite Broadway musical was "Carnegie" and adopting it as a catchphrase to describe the Kennedy years.

JFK was no King Arthur or Galahad — maybe a bit closer to Lancelot, Jackie was no Guinevere, either.

Not forgetting the appeal of the young Jackie, perhaps these young admirers have also found captivating the mature woman, who had such empathy with young people.

The mother and the Kennedy Library. The woman who made a life and career for herself in later years. The private woman.

All the mystique aside, today's young folks could find far less worthy role models.

There are plenty of THOSE around. And far too few of the caliber of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis. The lady will be remembered.

Letters policy

The Granite City Press-Record/Journal welcomes letters to the editor. The newspaper provides the "Letters" column to give readers an opportunity to voice opinions on various items of interest. Letters should be brief, preferably less than 10 paragraphs. Typed letters, or letters neatly written, are given priority treatment. Preference is also given to locally originated letters, but letters from outside the area are accepted. Each letter must be signed and include the telephone number and address of the author. Only the name and city will be printed, but authors may be called for verification purposes.

The Press-Record/Journal reserves the right to edit letters to conform with the newspaper's style, punctuation, grammar and spelling. Letters containing libel will not be used. The writer's tone or intention will not be changed.

Ruling against coffee house ignored nearby taverns

(By Dave Lindsay of Granite City)

Concerning the article entitled "Coffee House Plan Withdrawn... Would-be Operator Storms Out of Meeting" that appeared in the May 15 edition:

A response from the "Storm." As the "would-be operator," I would like to begin by apologizing as publicly as possible to all who were present at the Zoning Board hearing, particularly board members, who might have construed my words or actions as anger or vindictiveness.

When asked by Mr. Peterson if I chose to withdraw my petition — no other options were made available — I reluctantly but respectfully did so. I then extended my appreciation to the board for its consideration and efforts.

Assuming that my business was concluded, I calmly made an abrupt exit.

I may not be familiar with the formalities, but certainly there was no "storm." I was disappointed with the board's recommendation. I believe anyone placed in my position would have been disappointed.

However, as explained at the outset of the discussion, I had explored other locations in Granite City, Edwardsville and Collinsville in anticipation of a non-favorable response to the petition and was prepared to follow through in that event.

In other locations, I could operate 12 hours per day and as late as necessary with no restrictions and a better chance of a successful venture.

I informed the board that I would most likely pursue the Collinsville location, and concluded with a sincere invitation to visit the cafe. And I added, with humor, "And you can see what we missed in Granite."

As for the unwillingness "to accept an early 'last call,'" what the reporter failed to mention in his article is that, initially, I intended to operate until 2 a.m.

My "competition" is nightclubs, bars and taverns, which operate accordingly and in the same area.

Yes, "some coffee drinkers" don't want to go home before midnight.

In an effort to prompt a favorable recommendation, my petition for a midnight closing relinquished two hours of operation.

The board asked for another hour, restricting the hours of operation from 6 to 11 p.m.

Show me a nightclub, or any business in Granite City, for that matter, that operates five hours per day — successfully.

Everyone on the board seemed intrigued and expressed interest in the coffee concept, agreeing that it would be an asset to the city.

Their concern was for the well-being of the surrounding community. I understood and appreciated that concern.

I was not angry at all, just disappointed by the timely and very costly delays that were enhanced by the board's recommendation.

I'd like to thank everyone who has called and written in support of my efforts. It is greatly appreciated.

By the way, Dave's Cappuccino & Gourmet Coffees will now be located at 206 N. Bluff Road (Highway 157) in Collinsville, hopefully in June.

I hope citizens of Granite City will visit.

(Editor's note: The Jessica's Cottage restaurant in the same Granite City building, 2401 Jerden Ave., is remaining in operation.)

Leave sewer jobs to the street staff

TO THE EDITOR:

I have been reading about the projected idea of the Sewer Treatment Plant that some of the aldermen have:

1. That Granite City home owners pay more money per month for more employees at the treatment plant.

2. Change the working conditions of the Street Department by allowing the new employees at the treatment plant to work the sewer work that is Street Department work.

3. By doing this, it would give the Street Department more men to perform road work.

Wake up, aldermen, to the facts:

1. That the people in Granite City proper own the treatment plant because their money built it.

2. The bonds that built the treatment plant will be all paid for in July of this year.

3. You don't compare rates of other areas or cities with the owner. The privilege of a smaller rate belongs to the owners.

4. Since the sewer work has been Street Department work since the beginning, I don't think their union will allow this to happen.

5. The surplus money in the treatment fund could salvage a lot of debts the city has, but the budget that has been formed does not allow the city to use any money from the treatment plant to apply to city operating problems even though the treatment plant has a $1 million to $1.5 million surplus.

6. I, as a retired person and home owner, saving hit every year with a $40 to $100 increase in taxes on my house can't afford any more increases of any kind.

I have been retired for two years and already I can see why so many retired people are selling their houses and either moving into low-income apartments or just moving out of Granite City altogether.

Check your home owners, your aldermen, more than 65 percent of retired people in Granite City proper are the home owners and they can't take any more of your money.

Another thing to remember is: You are dealing with two different unions when you try to take away jobs from one department and give it to another.

I don't think they will agree with you, especially the Street Department.

Wake up, people in Granite

City proper. You own the treatment plant because your money built it.

We are entitled to reap some of the benefits, since we are the owners.

Don't let them raise our rates so these few aldermen can do their thing. If they want more people, let them combine the departments and work together.

If the aldermen do anything, they should reduce our rates, since the bonds will be paid off in July.

UN should not assign US troops

TO THE EDITOR:

In late April, a British general wearing a United Nations insignia petitioned a Japanese UN civilian who was working for the Egyptian bureaucracy sitting atop the entire UN, and the trio ordered U.S. fighter planes into combat in Bosnia-Herzegovina.

There wasn't any on-the-spot consultation with U.S. leaders.

President Bill Clinton wasn't contacted nor was Congress brought into the loop.

It seems as though we have reached a point where individuals from foreign nations now command our military. I wonder, is our entire military already under the jurisdiction of the world body?

As everyone in America should know, the men and women who serve in the United States military have sworn an oath to the Constitution of this nation, not to the UN Charter. How and where did an Englishman, a Japanese and an Egyptian gain any authority over our military?

Why are President Clinton and the entire U.S. Congress tolerating this complete break with our nation's past?

Until very recently, in prior involvement of U.S. forces in UN operations, our military personnel have taken their orders only from U.S. commanders.

If our military forces have been taken from the traditional use of our nation's military is a grave indication of a dangerous willingness on the part of current U.S. leaders to take our nation into the new world order run by the UN.

Our military forces have been assembled and trained to protect the vital interests of this nation.

They should be called upon to protect the lives and property of U.S. citizens, and that's all. They are not the president's playthings, and they are not supposed to be the UN's "globo-cope" to be used in whatever mission the UN chooses. A proper course for our nation is to get the United States out of the United Nations and bring our troops home.

Legitimate emergency needs to deploy U.S. forces anywhere in the world can be met virtually overnight from bases within our nation's borders.

The John Birch Society says that President Clinton must cease giving control of our military to the UN or to anyone.

The society also blames Congress for abdicating its responsibility to military personnel by allowing the president to send them all over the globe and then place them in situations where their use is dictated by non-U.S. commanders.

We are intensifying our call for complete U.S. withdrawal from the UN, NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) and all other military and diplomatic alliances.

Maxine Green covers the Granite City and Nanticoke Township area for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 931-6256.

A North Venice reunion is planned for 1 p.m. Sunday, June 12, at the Madison Recreation Center, 7th St. and Lee, Madison. Please bring a covered dish.

Belleville Area College's programs and services for older persons offers a senior companion program for low-income persons 60 years of age or older.

Persons who qualify on the age and income basis are being asked to volunteer 20 hours per week at an hourly rate and are reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses for travel and meals while volunteering for the program.

In addition to financial assistance, the senior companion is given the opportunity to be of service to those who are in need of a companion, thus giving the senior companions a new sense of importance and meaningfulness in their lives. Call 931-7018 for more information.

The senior companion recognition luncheon was held on May 13 at Albert's in Belleville. The welcome was given by Carol Rudack, director of senior companion programs.

The master of ceremonies was Eugene Verdu, executive director of Program and Services for Older Persons, who introduced the keynote speaker, Tim Krieger, Illinois state director of ACTION, the corporation for national service.

Veterie Thaxton, vice president of BAC community service division, presented the certificate, and pastor Bill R. Cummings gave the invocation. Entertainment was provided by Bob Ellison, retired chief master sergeant, Charlotte Hart, and Alex Ravineau.

Granite City recognition recipients for 10 years were: Ella Davis, Dorothy Ely and Viola Kenney; nine years, Mary Holm; eight years, Wilma Gilliam; seven years, Elsie Barr and Minnie Thomas; six years, Anna Blalock; five years, Amanda Langston and Warren Steinbecker; one year, June Cozart; and under one year, Violet Peck and Ennisee Todaro.

Recipients of the Madison-Ventana area were: 10 years, Sallie Blakely, Lee Flora Chiller, Bessie Woods and Eunice Mallet; nine years, Gladys Williams; eight years, Hortense Ball, Lula Mae Phillips; seven years, Thelma Tanner; six years, Riva Reed; five years, Jewel Hampton; four years, Earlene Boyd; three years, Blanche Borders and Everett Latham; and under one year, Deella Ackers, Violet Peck and Savella Singleton.

There were 85 other volunteers from surrounding areas who were also recognized at the buffet luncheon. Many townships, auxiliaries, clubs, businesses and individuals have contributed generously during the past years; they are deeply appreciated.

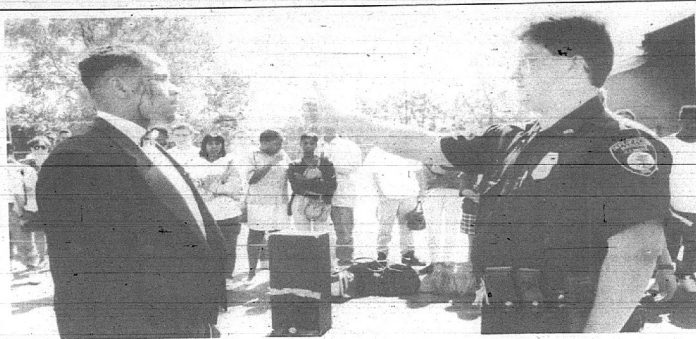

Senior companions has been an action program for 20 years. The Illinois Community College Award for Excellence in accountability for 1994 has been awarded to BAC for the program.

Senior companion staff includes Jerri Casson, Joanne Malcor, Jeanne Shelton, Carol Hudack and Sharon McMath.

On May 17, Dr. Larry Shipley welcomed patients and guests to his monthly back care class held at his office, 2502 Pontoon Road. Shipley discussed the chiropractic method of treatment for many conditions including migraine headaches and disc injuries. Chiropractic has had excellent success in treating these conditions even after other methods of treatment have failed.

Shipley explained how neck injuries can and do cause headaches and that's why someone who has been in an automobile accident should be examined by a back specialist, a chiropractor. Shipley said that his next back care class will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, June 14. He will be discussing stress and backaches and what chiropractic can do to help.

Paramedics from Lifeforce work to stabilize "injured" Damon Mitchell. In the foreground is Charmella Lawrence, who portrayed a girl "killed" in the mock crash.

Mock disaster drives drinking point home

A screech. A crash. A scream. Soon, sirens are sounding and lights are flashing. Police cars and ambulances arrive.

A crowd gathers. Some run to help the teenagers trapped in a wrecked car. Others stand by helplessly.

All are horrified as the hearse pulls onto the parking lot and the body of a girl, her prom dress a bloody mess, is zipped into a body bag and carted off to the county morgue.

All who witness the event are changed. Fortunately, the events at Madison High School on May 19 were not real. They were staged to drive home a point. The message: "Drugs, drinking and driving don't mix."

The program was put together by Lifeforce Paramedic Ambulance Service, the Madison police and fire departments, the St. Clair County coroner's office and students at MHS.

The reason for the message: "We have transported far too many people — teens and adults — who have insisted on getting behind the wheel after drinking alcohol or using drugs," said Jere Wilmering Sr., president and chief executive officer of Lifeforce.

"The results are deadly," he said. The demonstration accurately portrayed a teen auto crash. In the scenario, "John" has had a few drinks in the afternoon before picking up his date and another couple for the prom. Meanwhile, across town, a woman picks up her small son from the baby sitter's, hoping to get home in time to start dinner.

Neither car makes it to its destination. The events were portrayed as realistically as possible. The demonstration was detailed and graphic. Students watching the demonstration were initially joking and laughing.

But as ambulances, firefighters and police arrived on the scene, as their classmates remained trapped "unconscious" inside a car or lay unmoving on the pavement, the smiles and giggles turned to looks of concern and anguish.

Student participants and observers alike said the demonstration was a good idea.

"Hopefully, we got the message across," said Reggie Strode, one of the mock disaster participants.

"We practiced several hours. We hope it was worth it," he said.

Senior class Vice President Eugene Williams III was an observer.

"I thought it was nicely done," Williams said. "It set a good example, especially with graduation coming up."

"If this saves any one kid's life, then it was worth it," said Madison Mayor John Bellico, one of the sponsors of the mock disaster.

Andy's Auto Body and Towing donated two cars for the event. Werner Chapel for Funerals, Pontoon Beach, also helped sponsor the mock disaster.

Agencies team up against runoff

Local, state and federal officials are teaming up to push back a rising tide of sediment and storm water runoff that has left a soggy mess in parts of two counties.

Likely to be at the top of the list of priorities is Canteen Creek near Collinsville.

Madison County is joining with St. Clair County, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the Illinois Department of Transportation and other agencies to form the Bi-County Stormwater District to combat erosion, sedimentation, flooding and other storm water runoff problems associated with increased residential development.

The new agency, which got $200,000 in seed money from Madison and St. Clair counties, will initially work to reduce erosion and sedimentation in a series of creeks and streams that begin in the bluffs north of Collinsville and wind into St. Clair County.

"Our primary target at this stage is the American Bottoms, because that's where our most serious runoff problems seem to be," said Wayne Kinnery, district conservationist for the Department of Agriculture's Soil and Conservation Service and a member of the storm water district's team of experts.

Once immediate concerns in the American Bottoms, Madison County are addressed, the district is expected to begin looking at ways to solve runoff problems plaguing northern areas of Madison County, said project would enhance stormwater drainage in the area by construction of concrete gutters, eliminate hazardous sidewalks and allow for reconstruction of streets.

Funds

According to the grant application, water stands in area streets for weeks at a time following periods of heavy rain.

The first phase of the project, improvements to nearby Park Lane and Nelson Drive, was approved last year. Construction on Phase I has begun and is expected to be completed this summer, Hales said.

Gwen Taylor, who lives at the corner of Nicholas and Park lanes, said that water often creeps up six feet into her yard following a rain.

"In the winter, it freezes and my tires get frozen to the driveway," Taylor said.

She said the standing water becomes an "attractive nuisance" for neighborhood children during the summer.

And, she said, the street and sidewalk are in such bad shape that she meets the mail truck at the street each day for fear that it will "get lost in a hole."

The city of Madison has once again applied for funding to build an elevator in City Hall.

Mayor John Belicoff hopes this year's application will be more well received.

"This elevator is badly needed to comply with the ADA. It will allow accessibility to our council meetings (which are held on the second floor of City Hall), allow us to move our administrative offices back upstairs and allow for expansion of the police department downstairs," Belicoff

Circus tickets may be purchased from any Shriner or at the gate prior to the performances.

Tickets are also available at all Schnucks Stores, most area banks and any business displaying an "Aided Shrine Circus tickets available here" sign.

David Dietzel, Madison County highway engineer and another member of the district team, "Right now we want to address the bluffs, but our long-range intent is to address all the creeks and other runoff problem areas that run through our county," Dietzel said.

In the area between the bluffs near Collinsville and in other parts of Madison County, much of the runoff and sediment problem has been linked to increased housing construction and tree cutting.

Storm water district officials are setting up an office of engineers and hydrologists in space borrowed from the Illinois Department of Transportation in Collinsville.

"We are planning to do a study to prioritize our runoff problems here in Madison County by the fall so we can get to work before the year is out," Dietzel said.

District officials have set a Nov. 5 deadline for the study. Expected to top the list of priority targets is Canteen Creek, where flash floods caused severe damage in April.

On Thursday, the agency requested $200,000 in emergency money from the federal government to help pay for cleanup costs along the creek, which is one of the main drainage canals in Madison County.

Jerry Davis of the Canteen Creek Drainage District said Friday that the new agency's plans are good news for residents in Collinsville and State Park who live along raped her twice at gunpoint.

Assistant Granite City Police Chief Kip Pomeroy said Lindsey allegedly forced sex on the victim on the front porch of his home and then again inside his home.

The woman then went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and reported the incident to police, according to reports.

Police applied for and were issued a search warrant Friday afternoon.

They executed the warrant at Lindsey's house at about 4 p.m. and confiscated 31 marijuana plants, bed sheets, four guns (a SKS assault rifle, a Winchester riot gun, a 22-caliber rifle and a 10-gauge, double barrel shotgun), ammunition, scales, $500 cash in Lindsey's possession, and two safes, they said.

Lindsey had entered an open guilty plea to a drug charge earlier this year, police said.

But a recent sentencing hearing on the charge had to be continued because Lindsey failed to show for it, police said.

Canteen Creek.

"In the next few years it will benefit our area immensely," Davis said.

However, Davis said the drainage district board is continuing its efforts to obtain other grant money for the estimated $153,000 it will take for a "complete overhaul" of the levees and ditch along the 1.6-mile section of Canteen Creek controlled by the district.

"It's real close," he said. "As soon as we get the money, we'll get working on it."

Heavy rains in late April caused three breaks in the levees, flooding State Park streets and causing police to recommend residents of a six-block area to evacuate their homes.

The threat of flooding and other problems near the creek has increased since those April flash floods because of trees, rocks, brush and sediment washed down from the creek banks, Dietzel said.

An answer to the funding request is not expected for several weeks.

Officials on both sides of the Madison-St. Clair County line have been talking about forming a joint agency to combat the problems of storm water runoff for more than two years.

"It's been a problem for a long, long time. Those creeks and streams coming off the bluffs have silted in as much as 10 to 15 years," Dietzel said.

— From the Alton Telegraph, with information from Journal reporter Martin Richter.

The city of Venice is seeking $125,000 for a road and drainage improvement project as well.

The proposed project includes replacing about 1,680 feet of road surface on Baucum Avenue, improving stormwater drainage there and some curb repairs; overlaying the existing surface of nearly 3,000 feet of Mercedocia Avenue and improving drainage; replacing two catch basins on Brown Street between Oriole and Ben streets; and improving the street surface in the 1300 block of Oriole Street, near Broadway.

The same project was proposed but rejected last year, Mayor Tyrone Echols said.

Decisions on the allocation of discretionary CDBG funds are expected to be made by July or August this year.

Arlene Kohuth

Arlene M. (Anderson) Kohuth, 83, of Granite City died at 8:55 a.m. Wednesday, June 1, 1994, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she had been a patient for a short time.

Born Dec. 4, 1930, in Elco, Ill., she had been employed as a machine operator at the Owens-Illinois box factory in Madison.

Survivors include her husband, Carl Kohuth, whom she married Nov. 9, 1957; two sons, Michael Kohuth of Granite City and Anthony Bruce Illies of Bloomington, Minn.; one daughter, Bernadine Petro of Granite City; one sister, Winifred Anderson of Granite City; and four grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Louis and Elsie M. (Cumins) Anderson.

Visitation is from 5 to 8 p.m. today at Irwin Chapel, 3960 Mayville Road, Granite City, where services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday with the Rev. James Robbins officiating. Burial will be at Lake View Memorial Gardens, Fairview Heights.

Local student takes advantage of college opportunity

When first-generation student Cynthia Estep started five years ago at Wichita State University in Kansas, she didn't know what to expect. But the unfamiliar didn't stop her from taking advantage of several opportunities to make the most of her undergraduate years.

Estep, the daughter of Sandra and Ronald Chumney of Pontoon Beach, graduated with a bachelor's degree, cum laude, in sociology and women's studies and a minor in French at WSU's commencement May 21.

With a double major and a foreign language minor she has taken advantage of academic life at WSU. But, with all the jobs she has held, she's taken ample advantage of life experiences outside the classroom, too.

For the past two years, she has worked about 25 hours a week as a student assistant in WSU's religion department.

Before that, she worked at a Wichita homeless shelter compiling demographics as part of a cooperative education placement through WSU.

She also has worked one semester as a research assistant for Carol Wolfe Konek, associate professor of women's studies and associate dean of liberal arts and sciences, and she was a resident assistant and international resident adviser at WSU's Fairmount Towers residence hall during another semester.

One of her unusual jobs during college was working for a company which provided plant care to businesses. She would water and care for the plants at the various businesses utilizing the service.

Although Estep entered college as a first-generation student, she hasn't been the only one in her family now to go onto higher education. Her sister, Katherine Grigsby, graduated earlier this month from Wesleyan College in Macon, Ga.

Her mother, who started an associate's degree program with Butler County Community College while she and her husband were stationed at McConnell Air Force Base in Wichita, is planning to further her education, as well. Her 13-year-old sister, Frances Chumney, has her sights set on Harvard University.

And Estep isn't finished with her college experience yet, either. She plans to continue at WSU for a master's degree and then wants to enter a doctoral program. Her long-term goal is to teach and do research at a university.

FAMILY

Maynard
50 years

The children of the Rev. Harold Maynard and Ruth Maynard of Granite City gave a luncheon in honor of their parents' 50th wedding anniversary on April 2 at the Collinsville Holiday Inn ballroom.

Guests included members of their families, friends, members of the congregation of Calvary Pentecostal Assembly and fellow ministers.

A short introduction and prayer were followed by a buffet lunch. The Maynards then cut a wedding cake.

The program began with the Rev. Mark Maynard. Tributes were given by James Springs, Ruth's brother; Maxine Grounds, Harold's sister; M.L. Kincaid, missionary to Central America; James Lindsay, deacon and member of Calvary Pentecostal Assembly; and Roger Miller, the Maynards' son-in-law.

The program concluded with a video presentation featuring photos of the Maynards from their childhood to the present. Piano music for the event was provided by Don Stratton.

Harold and Ruth grew up in Williamson County, Ill. They attended Crab Orchard High School, where they began dating. They were married in 1944 while Harold was in the Navy.

After World War II, they moved to the Alton-Wood River area, where they lived until 1960. During most of that time, Harold worked at Union Tank Car. Along with working, he ministered in area nursing homes.

In 1956, he pastored for a few months in Granite City, and then started a church in upper Alton.

In 1959, he was called to pastor in Granite City at Pentecostal Assembly, located at 24th Street and Bromley Avenue. The congregation began to grow and purchased land on the outskirts of Granite City, on Maryville Road, then a two-lane blacktop road.

In 1965, a new sanctuary was built on Maryville Road. The main auditorium was built in 1969.

As pastors, the Maynards have seen the church grow and flourish.

The Maynards have three children, Carol, Rebecca and Mark.

Carol has devoted her time to teaching and is heavily involved in church work and children's ministry. Currently, she is completing her 25th year of teaching at Triad Community High School, Troy, where she is the head of the business department.

Bekki married Roger Dale Miller on Jan. 12, 1973. They now have two children, Zachary Aaron, who is 14, and Stephanie Renee, 12. They own a business, Gateway Packaging.

Mark married Jill Carol Page on Aug. 1, 1987, and they have two daughters, Paige Erin, who is five, and Abigail Marie, who is five months.

Five years ago, Mark became the senior pastor of Calvary Pentecostal Assembly.

Winkeler-
Livesay

Jill Colleen Livesay and Duane Joseph Winkeler were married May 14, 1994, at St. Michael's Church, Radom, Ill., by the Rev. Jerome Hibner.

Jill is the daughter of Crystal and Arthur-Someske of Ashley, Ill., and Clarence Livesay Jr. and Sheryl Livesay of Granite City. Duane is the son of Henry and Carol Winkeler of Ashley.

The matron of honor was Kim Gonnora of Ingleside, Ill., sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Becky Nicholson of Belleville; Sheri Jones of Mount Vernon; and Dawn Livesay of Granite City, sister of the bride.

The best man was Dale Winkeler of Ashley. The groomsmen were Sean Someske of Ashley, brother of the bride; Chris Jahke of DuBois, Ill.; and Marvin Gerdes of Bartlesville, cousin of the groom.

The ushers were Greg Restoff of New Minden, Ill., cousin of the groom; Ron Gonnora of Ingleside, brother-in-law of the bride; Brian Winkeler of Bartlesville, cousin of the groom; and Patrick Godfrey, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in

Warriors whip Oilers, capture regional title

Winfield's six RBI lead way to first GCHS crown since '87

By Mike Kelly
Correspondent

The drought is finally over. After seven long, disappointing seasons, the Granite City Warriors finally won a regional championship — their first since 1987 — by pounding hapless Wood River High 10-1 on Tuesday in the championship game of the Class AA Wood River Regional at Dwiggins Field.

The Warriors (25-8) pounded out 12 hits and broke the game open with a four-run sixth inning. First baseman Mark Winfield led the assault with three hits, including a grand slam, and six RBI. Granite City will play Marion (19-9) at 10 a.m. Saturday in the opening round of the Class AA Kaskaskia College Sectional in Centralia.

MARION DEFEATED Carbon- dale 8-5 on Tuesday to win the Marion Regional. O'Fallon (18-6) takes on Belleville West (15-12) in Saturday's second game at 12:30 p.m. The sectional championship game will be played at 4 p.m. Monday.

"I'm so excited about this," said first-year coach Gus Lignoul, who was an assistant coach under Bob Stegemeier when the Warriors won their last regional title. "This was our ultimate goal since the season began and the kids worked hard for it. We came out today and just hit the ball with authority. Once we got the lead, our guys never looked back."

GCHS adds another title under Lignoul

By Mike Kelly
Correspondent

It's a special feeling the first time around.

Just ask Granite City baseball coach Gus Lignoul, who picked up both a Southwestern Conference title and a regional championship in his first year as head coach. The Warriors, who hadn't won a regional championship since 1987, turned the trick on Tuesday by pounding Wood River 10-1 in the Class AA Wood River Regional championship at Dwiggins Field.

It was a dream come true for Lignoul, who was having a hard time containing his emotions.

"I DON'T WANT to get too excited because there's still a lot of baseball left to play," said Lignoul, who was an assistant coach under Bob Stegemeier when the Warriors captured the

PK goal beats Lady Kahoks; GCHS repeats sectional title

That Granite City and Collinsville's girls soccer teams met to decide a sectional championship wasn't a surprise. Nor was it shocking to see the teams battle into two overtimes on Tuesday at Kahok Stadium.

But the game's final play definitely added a new chapter to the long rivalry between the tradition-laced programs. An unexpected penalty kick goal by senior Kami Kessel gave Granite City a 2-1 victory, a Collinsville Sectional title and a berth in this weekend's IHSA state tournament at Conant High in Hoffman Estates.

"This is great. It's really big," Kessel said. "We worked all season for it and finally did it. (Collinsville) beat us in penalty kicks two years ago, so we've been waiting for this."

"WE WANTED to play them; we didn't want to play anybody else to go to state. We wanted to play Collinsville. We hadn't beat them all this year, and we finally beat them."

The Lady Warriors (17-3-2), who earned their second straight trip to state, will meet Libertyville (15-2-1) in Friday's 7:30 p.m. quarterfinal game. The Wildcats crushed Stevenson 7-0 to win the Lincolnshire Stevenson Sectional.

came with 3:58 remaining in the second sudden-death overtime period. Holly Farnsworth sent a crossing pass to the middle, where Collinsville's Christy Lawrence committed a hand ball foul inside the box — automatically giving the Lady Warriors a penalty kick.

Farnsworth — with Kessel standing behind her — lined up to take the penalty kick, then bent over and tapped the ball ahead slightly. As Lady Kahoks goalkeeper Christi Miller charged, Kessel rushed in and struck the ball, which barely eluded a sliding Miller before finding the goal.

"KESSEL DESERVED IT because she had such a great game," Granite City coach Gene Baker said. "Kessel's a big-time little player. She plays with a lot of heart."

As the Lady Warriors celebrated their victory, Collinsville coaches argued that Farnsworth deserved Miller on the play. The play stood, however, as officials rushed off the field.

"We haven't done that since

Practice makes perfect for GCHS kickers

By David Wilhelm
Staff writer

Hours before its sectional championship game Tuesday against host Collinsville, Granite City's girls soccer team held a brief practice.

It paid off. During that practice, the Lady Warriors worked on a penalty-kick play that coach Gene Baker hadn't used since the 1982 boys sectional final against Alton Marquette at Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville. He had no idea it would turn into a games-winner.

WITH THE GAME tied 1-1 in the second sudden-death overtime, Collinsville junior Christy Lawrence was called for a hand ball foul in the box, giving Granite City a penalty kick.

Junior Holly Farnsworth lined up to take the PK, then dinked it

Kickers to square off with Libertyville

By Tony Panozzo

When the Lady Warriors took an early exit from the quarterfinals of the IHSA state soccer tournament last season, many onlookers left with a strong impression Granite City might have been the better team despite a 1-0 loss to Downers Grove South.

Libertyville coach Andy Bitta was one of them. "I thought Granite City was the better team," said Bitta, whose team will face the Lady Warriors in the state quarterfinals 7:30 p.m. Friday night at Conant High School in Hoffman Estates. "The better team sometimes doesn't win."

THE LADY WARRIORS are hoping history does not repeat itself in that form Friday — or at least hoping for dry weather. A rain-soaked field at Naperville Central took away Granite City's finesse game against Downers Grove South and helped the Mustangs hold off the Lady War-

Granite City is making its second straight appearance at state and third in the past four years. Libertyville is playing at state for the first time since 1991, the year the Wildcats won the state championship.

Two players remain from that team. One of them, Kelly Karl, is the school's career scoring leader and led the Wildcats to the state title as a freshman.

1982 with the boys," said Baker. "We thought it would be fun. It's a tension-breaker. It's designed for a skillful player and it's a big surprise. There are some officials who don't know it's legal."

"The ball has to go forward. It has to make a revolution. It's the same as a kickoff at the center line."

Lady Kahoks coach Deana Wallace said, "It's a legal play. I just had a small problem with the delayed reaction on the kicker (Farnsworth). She bent down to kind of act like she was going to set the ball, then she played it."

"On a PK, in the (rule) book it says you must approach the ball directly. If she would have approached the ball and just directly hit it to her left, I would have had no problem with that. But she did hesitate and act like she was going to go down and touch the ball, then played it. That's illegal."

Collinsville, which defeated and tied Granite City Jr. in two meetings earlier this season, finished with a 13-4-2 record. The Lady Warriors took a 1-0 lead at 7:00, when junior Staci Dowdy scored unassisted from 12 yards away after getting around Collinsville's Sarah Judkins.

"Dowdy's first goal was all-state caliber," said Baker. The Lady Kahoks got the equalizer just 1:23 later, when Heather Jalinsky scored past Granite City goalkeeper Mikla Economy following a free kick by Jennifer Herberts.

"To come right back and score was great, and we needed that because you can't stay down in a game 1-0," said Wallace. "You have to come right back, and they did. They bounced right back and put the ball in."

At 29:20, Miller made a terrific save of a blast by Farnsworth from inside the box. Farnsworth's shot rocketed toward the goal and Miller reached high to deflect it over the crossbar.

There was a 16-minute delay in the second half after Granite City freshman Michelle Montgomery collided with a Collinsville player near midfield. An ambulance was called and Montgomery was taken away with a concussion.

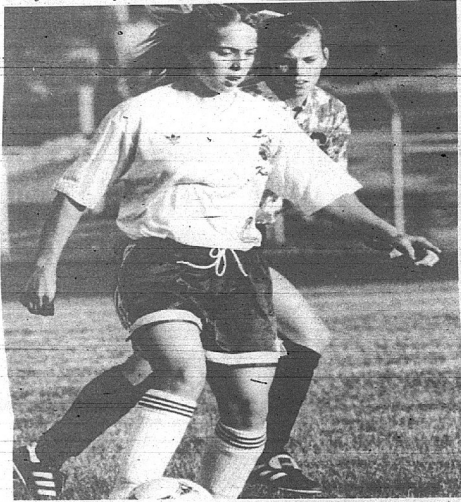

In the end, that was the only negative for the Lady Warriors. "For kids like Kami Kessel and (Brooke Bjorkman), that's three out of four," said Baker. "That's a nice thing to be in the state tournament three of your four years in high school."

Karl, a fourth-year starter, has 19 goals this season and 74 in her career.

But the senior forward is just one of several standout players the Wildcats depend on. Karl, ironically, is a point guard who will play basketball at the University of New Hampshire next season.

"We just have a lot of depth, a lot of good players," Bitta said. "(Karl) is a nice little player."

"We've got some quality players. We've been building up and we've had a good season."

Libertyville goalkeeper Mary Zurek, a two-year starter, has given up just five goals all season and has recorded 14 shut-outs. Three of those goals came in a 3-0 loss to Naperville North. "She's had a great year," Bitta said.

The team's other loss was to Conant. The Wildcats also tied Palatine, a state quarterfinalist, 0-0.

Libertyville's other top players include Mandy McLean, a senior sweeper. McLean is a four-year starter who started as a freshman along with Karl in 1991. McLean will continue playing soccer at Northwestern University next year.

Erica Chung, a senior midfielder, has seven goals and five assists on the season but has been sidelined by a bruised knee. Bitta said she is questionable for Friday's game.

The Wildcats advanced to state with a 7-0 victory over Stevenson in the Lincolnshire Stevenson Sectional on Tuesday. Libertyville was the No. 1 seed in the sectional, and Stevenson was seeded sixth.

"Our sectional was not that strong," Bitta said. "They were a good team, but I think we were just a step better than them."

The Lady Warriors, meanwhile, went into double overtime against Collinsville on Tuesday before defeating the Lady Kahoks 2-1 on a penalty kick goal by Kami Kessel. The Lady Warriors have won six straight games since tying their archrivals 1-1 on May 9.

Friday's contest will be the second meeting between Granite City and Libertyville. In 1992 at the Rockford Boylan Tournament, the Lady Warriors defeated the Wildcats 1-0 on a goal by Holly Farnsworth and went on to place second in the tourney.

Bitta said he knows little about the Lady Warriors, but he expects a tough game Friday.

"I know very little out of the fact that Gene Baker is one of the best coaches in the Midwest," Bitta said. "We have our hands full. His teams are always well-coached, finesse teams."

"I think it's going to be a very tightly played game."

The Lady Warriors lost eight senior starters from last year's state quarterfinal team, including goalkeeper Stephanie Kull and All-State sweeper Beth Rapoff. But Mikka Economy and Kami Kessel, respectively, have stepped in to fill those positions and the Lady Warriors have had a balanced scoring attack led by Staci Dowdy's 18 goals.

Last year's experience at state figures to be a benefit for the Lady Warriors. Kessel and midfielder Brooke Bjorkman, who has scored nine times this year, will be playing at state for the third time in the past four years. "We're looking forward to it," Baker said. "You can't think ahead. You have to realize you can get beat."

(Libertyville) is a good program. I think (Bitta) does a good job. When we saw them before, they had good speed."

The Lady Warriors have several players who are still trying to reach full speed: Junior striker Holly Farnsworth is still favoring an ankle injury she suffered earlier this season, and Denise McMillan remains sidelined with a knee injury.

The winner of Friday's game will play Naperville Central or Lincoln-Way at 11 a.m. Saturday. The state championship game is scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday.

regional seven years ago. "But it's hard to contain what I'm feeling right now. I'm proud of these guys. They set a goal for themselves and they got the job done."

Mark Winfield backboned Granite City's (25-8) march through the regional tournament with two home runs and seven RBI. He had three hits, including a grand slam, and six RBI against Wood River (14-15) in the title game.

"Our hitting slump is over," Winfield said. "That little bit of time off we had before the regional really paid off. And having coach (Jim) Greenwald working with us was an added bonus. He knows how to correct a problem, and right away, I wasn't making good contact near the end of the season."

"The whole team was struggling for that matter. But we ironed out the problem and we're sitting here to hit the ball again. I was taking too many pitches. I was aggressive today and the ball just jumped off my bat."

Winning the regional was special, but winning it for Lignoul and his coaching staff this season meant even more.

"We've been blessed with an outstanding coaching staff," Winfield said. "These guys are excellent teachers. They never yelled at us, but they pointed out our mistakes in a diplomatic fashion. It was a lot of fun playing for this coaching staff and we really wanted to win this thing not only for ourselves, but for them as well."

The Warriors displayed that determination in the first-inning against Wood River, when Winfield blasted a two-run double with two outs.

"Look at all of our key hits today," Lignoul said. "They all came with two outs. Our guys were all business."

"This was one of our best games of the season. We got solid contributions from everyone, especially the seniors. Those guys are responsible for where we are right now."

Lignoul displayed his gratitude by playing all of his seniors in the seventh inning.

"I just wanted to get everyone in I could," he said. "I wanted everyone to experience a piece of this. It's such a great feeling to win a conference championship and a regional in the same season. It's a credit to the kids and all of their hard work."

The Warriors, who won their last outright SWC title in 1987, will play Marion in the opening round of the Class AA Kaskaskia College Sectional at 10 a.m. Saturday. Marion (19-9) defeated Carbondale 5-5 on Tuesday to win the Marion Regional.

"This will be our first visit to the sectional in seven years," Lignoul said. "It's going to be a new experience for us, but I'm confident these guys will be ready for it. There's a lot of similarities between this group and our 1987 team."

"Like that team, we're solid on defense and we have a deep pitching staff. We can also hit the ball pretty well. The tools are there. Now, it's up to them."

"We can't afford a letdown," said Jeff Ridenour, who picked up a save on Tuesday. "We showed our true personality today, and if we keep playing like this, we can reach the state tournament."

•Warriors

The Warriors didn't waste any time putting Wood River (14-15) out of its misery. Winfield's two-run double handed Granite City a 2-0 lead in the first inning. Andy Roe's RBI single in the second and Jason Wood's two-run homer in the third gave the Warriors a commanding 6-0 advantage.

"Our regular center fielder (Miles Vandiver) had surgery today to remove a cyst on his back," Wood River coach Paul Kindle said. "Had he been out there, he might have caught (Winfield's) ball-and we would have escaped with a scoreless tie in the opening frame."

"It might have been an entirely different game, if that happened. This had to be a low-scoring game or we'd have a chance. But we simply got overpowered by a terrific ballclub," Corey Dickerson, who picked up his 10th win of the season in 11 decisions, went 4½ innings. He limited Wood River to a pair of singles before Jeff Ridenour came on to pick up the save.

"They've got all the weapons," Kindle said. "I can't see too many teams stopping Granite City. They don't beat themselves. They're solid on defense and they have three super pitchers. Now, their hitting is starting to come around and that spells trouble for the opposition.

"They're the team to beat in the sectional in my opinion."

But the Warriors aren't getting all caught up by their recent success.

"We're just taking it one game at a time," said Winfield, who had two home runs and seven RBI in the regional. "Wood River beat Edwardsville on Saturday and we weren't going to take them lightly. This is a do or die situation. One bad game and you're out. We don't want that."

"Unlike last year's team, the seniors on this club aren't quitters. We want to play high-school baseball until someone tells us it's over. We have to play well to win the sectional. If we play like we did today, there's no stopping us."

Losing pitcher Nicklaus Knight got a firsthand look at Granite City's power. The righthander only lasted 2½ innings and gave up six runs (five earned) on seven hits.

"Knight just didn't have it today," Kindle said. "He got his pitches up and Granite City just ripped him. That's not an excuse, it's a fact. You can't get the ball up against this team, especially with a lineup as powerful as theirs. We have nothing to be ashamed of because we lost to a great team."

approximately two feet ahead before senior Kami Kessel sprouted in from behind to score past oncoming Collinsville goalkeeper Christi Miller at 96:02.

"We hold that one," Baker said. "When we did it in '82, two officials (who had been sitting in the stands) jumped the fence and came out screaming at us that it was illegal, after the (game) official — one of the best I knew exactly what it was. It's not something that's new."

Collinsville coach Deanna Wallace and assistant Gene Briggs didn't argue the legality of the play, but each believed Farnsworth deceived Miller when she bent over slightly before kicking the ball ahead for Kessel.

"That's a deceptive motion and the referee didn't call it," Briggs said. "The rule states that on a penalty kick, you must make a direct motion through the ball. (Farnsworth) came up, stopped, bent over and then played it. That's being deceptive. It's up to the ref to make that interpretation."

"The play was legal, but what you can't do is make the deceptive motion."

Baker didn't think Farnsworth deceived anyone.

"She shoots like that," he said. "Holly's one of my buddies. She gets a cheap assist. And that was a cheap assist."

Kessel was a little uneasy about executing the play. "I was a little nervous, but we had nothing to lose," said Kessel, who was 4 years old the last time Baker used the play. "I had to go for it."

"We practiced it today. It was the first time we've ever practiced it or even talked about it."

Lawrence's hand ball came after a crossing pass from Farnsworth. Lawrence appeared to be in position to clear the ball away, but it bounced up and deflected off her right hand.

"Actually, I was yelling at her to make sure there were no players behind her," said Wallace. "She was tracking back and at that time the ball was sent across. I don't know if it was a glance she took to her left to see if someone was there or what. But she looked up and, boom, the ball was there. That was unfortunate."

"It just caught her by surprise, I think," said Baker. "The tension in these games plays such a crucial part, obviously."

THE LAW AND YOU

By RICK REED
Attorney At Law

When a person sustains a personal injury and requests a jury trial, it is up to the jury to assess whether or not the person is injured and to determine what damages, if any, ought to be awarded. Sometimes there is disagreement with the amount of damages awarded.

In one recent case, a high school student who had attended the school's homecoming football game was walking through the parking lot when another student hit her with his truck. Although the plaintiff attended the homecoming festivities later that evening, she was in pain and her arm and knee were greatly swollen.

The plaintiff consulted with the family doctor twice after the accident. She stayed out of school for one week and wore a knee brace for two months thereafter. She did not consult another doctor, however, for almost nineteen months after her last visit with her family doctor.

She testified that even though she did not treat with a doctor for more than a year and a half, she nevertheless was forced to give up a number of activities that she had previously enjoyed. The condition of her knee made it difficult for her to jump, and she could not withstand strenuous activities. She had previously been a starting player on her high school varsity volleyball team, but she was forced to give this up as well as all intramural high school sports.

She later consulted with two more doctors who felt that she was not in need of surgery, and finally with a board-certified orthopedic surgeon who indicated that arthroscopic surgery was an option. At trial, the plaintiff introduced the testimony of the surgeon who indicated that surgery was an option while the defendant relied on the testimony of the other doctors who felt that her injury did not require surgery. The plaintiff had bills totaling over $800.00, but the jury only awarded her $300.00 in damages.

The plaintiff appealed the case arguing that the verdict was inadequate in that it failed to reflect the evidence offered to show pain and suffering. The Appellate Court noted that there was a conflict between the statements of the various doctors and that it was for the jury to assess what damages ought to be awarded. The Appellate Court felt that the nineteen month delay in treatment and the conflicting testimony of the doctors required that it not reverse the jury's finding in this matter.

Horoscope

Thursday, June 2
No matter how serious a situation is today, use a little charm, even if you don't feel like it. The sun in Gemini is squaring Saturn in Pisces, and squares the planet Uranus in Taurus. This is a potentially, but unnecessary, conflict. Landlords and bosses may accuse you of being too much to worry about personally that they can't handle any more trouble. Lovers avoid discussing marriage for now.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You've got all the right moves on the job today. Colleagues and superiors enjoy your unique insight. A friend or lover may go back on his or her word. Be flexible in money matters. Exercise patience.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). An old flame is back on the scene. Avoid romanticizing memories of the past, or the truth becomes distorted. You are torn between personal and financial interests. Luck involves a test.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Financial concerns give you a sense of urgency that spurs you to great things. Strive to concentrate harder at work or school. Abandon a path that leads only to a dead end. Love inspires you.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Follow your instincts in creative matters today, and you'll make a splash. Close friends pull strings for you. Avoid flying off the handle in a confrontation with a lover, and you'll reach an understanding.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23). The attention you devote to family and friends is returned. A solution becomes clear when you approach the problem from a different angle. Follow a lover's suggestion. Check arrival times.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 2). Step up to the plate, and make a quick decision. By October, you are away from an emotionally draining situation. Money comes from a relative in September, a gamble in October and a job in November. Seek out Virgos and Capricorns for love, stability and marriage. Reconciliations in November are permanent. Your lucky numbers are 8, 19 and 29.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). A sudden revelation leaves you feeling a bit overwhelmed. Avoid getting carried away with your emotions. Think things through before taking action. You have made the correct financial decision.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Domestic disputes are more easily resolved when you accept criticism. A light budget doesn't have to limit your options as much as you think. Be creative. A flirtation is short-lived.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You're on the go from morning until night today. Take time out to rest this evening. Pay attention to details, and a business deal is accomplished without a hitch. A spouse or lover clears up some confusion.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). What seems to be a setback leads to a stroke of good fortune. Be as frugal as possible, and you'll soon have the means to make a sound investment. You are attracted to a brand-new acquaintance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). An associate goes out of his or her way to help out. Take advantage of an opportunity to return the favor. Financial circumstances complicate a business move. A lover deserves attention.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). A meeting with influential people leads to a rare opportunity. Speak up on behalf of the underdog. Financial circumstances prompt you to redouble your efforts. A love interest is distracted.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Go ahead and set ambitious goals—they inspire you as nothing else can. You and a romantic partner are ready to take an important step. Take third-hand information with a grain of salt.

'Jesus Christ Superstar' at Shrine

The National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, Belleville, will present the musical "Jesus Christ Superstar" Saturday, June 25 at 7 p.m.

The musical, for the entire family, will be performed by Youth Sing Praise at the Outdoor Amphitheatre.

"Jesus Christ Superstar," music by Andrew Lloyd Webber and lyrics by Tim Rice, was originally produced on Broadway by Robert Stigwood and MCA, Inc. by special arrangement with David Land. The original Broadway production was conceived by Tom O'Horgan.

Approximately 90 high school students practice, rehearse, pray and sing for one week in preparation for their Youth Sing Praise performance of "Jesus Christ Superstar."

Youth Sing Praise is a program that gathers high school aged singers from around the country who exhibit vocal talent and who have put their talents in the service of the church. The purpose of Youth Sing Praise is to help students improve their singing, improve their spiritual life, build confidence, improve music minister skills, and promote the use of their talents at worship.

Admission is free. For additional information regarding the Youth Sing Praise performance of "Jesus Christ Superstar," contact Paul Lindauer, Director of Youth Ministry at the Shrine, 397-0704 (TTY).
